J. Keegan Junior Ring Chairman

Weitekamp, McGrath, Cullen, Collins To Fill Committee

Edward H. McGrath, president of the Junior class, has announced that the Rev. Joseph D. Fitzgerald, S.J., Dean, has approved the appointment of Joseph M. Keegan as chairman of the Junior ring committee.

Keegan, whose home is in Passaic, New Jersey, is a member of the Purple Key and of the staff of the TOMAHAWK.

The other committeemen are Daniel P. Weitekamp from Brooklyn, N. Y., an outstanding football and track man; William T. Cullen, Scranton, Pa., a member of the TOMAHAWK news board; William B. Collins, Worcester, an active participant in intra-mural sports and a member of the Worcester Club; and Paul F. McGrath of Worcester, one of Holy Cross' most accomplished musicians, and business manager of the Philharmonic orchestra.

Supply Corps Wants Grads

Offers Commissions In U. S. Naval Reserves

The Office of Naval Officers Procurement in Boston announced recently that the Navy Department has authorized the continuance of the Procurement Program opened in January, 1942, for the enrollment of applicants for appointments as Probationary Ensigns, Supply Corps, U. S. Naval Reserve.

In accordance with the new directive, an additional six hundred qualified young men will be appointed to commissioned rank.

Requirements Set

The requirements for applicants are here briefly listed: applicant must be not less than 19 years of age and not over 26; must possess a suitable degree from an accredited college or university; if naturalized, must have been a citizen for the last ten years and must have resided in the United States during the same period; must be at least 66 inches and not more than 76 inches in height; must weigh at least

PATCHER NOTICE

Seniors are asked to co-operate with the staff of the 1943 Patcher by following the schedule of sittings for portraits as closely as possible. Due to the lack of time, these sittings must be finished this Spring. Seniors are also asked to wear white shirts and conservative ties for the Patcher picture. Please consult the schedules which are posted in Wheeler, Beaven and the Day-Students' Room.

V-1 BOARD TO VISIT HERE

Naval Officers Will Interview Applicants

NOTICE

Tomorrow, May 27, a recruiting board will visit Holy Cross in connection with the Navy V-1 program. Ensign A. O. Knowlton, U.S.N.R.; Lieut. (jg) T. M. Monahan, medical officer from the Navy Recruiting Station in Worcester, and three assistants will compose the board. All those who are interested in the program are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to find out all about V-1.

Interesting facts about V-1 were presented in a letter from William R. Fry, Lieutenant, USNR, who visited the campus recently. He stated that every student in the V-1 program has an opportunity to qualify in the competitive examination either for V-7 or for V-5. For V-7, deck or engineering officer training; for V-5, aviation officer training. If a student in V-1 should fail to be in either of the two groups selected for V-7 or V-5, he will nevertheless have his mental and physical qualifications reviewed to see whether he is potentially a good flying officer or has the basic qualifications for one.

Chances for Officer Training High

Moreover, any student in V-1 who fails to remain in college will be permitted to go to one of the Navy Flight Training Schools, providing he can pass both the physical and mental examination for prospective aviation officers. The mental examination will consist primarily of an intelligence test, which, in the future, will be given all candidates for flight training. It now becomes possible for such students to become commissioned officers, rather than apprentice seamen.

STAMP DRIVE RESUMED

All Students Asked To Participate

After a two-weeks' interruption, the TOMAHAWK war stamp drive is on again! Building representatives have been selected and have received their stamps. They will probably visit every room in their respective buildings at least once within the next week or so.

Freshmen Ahead

Final tabulations showed that in the 47-day duration of the first stamp drive $78 worth were sold. This figure is not as low as it seems since the representatives were directed to make a special effort to contact those who would not otherwise have bought stamps in the postoffice. It is also interesting to note that approximately 55 percent of the stamps sold during that period were purchased by members of the Class of 1945.

Students are asked to purchase their stamps from their own representatives, since it is otherwise impossible to calculate

Dance Committee Have Famous Group To Supply Melody

Richard J. Dubord, Chairman of the Spring Formal committee, announced this week that the "new music" of Shep Fields and his orchestra will supply the musical background for the Spring Formal. The dance is to be held in the main ballroom of the Bancroft Hotel on the evening of June 5.

The contract signed by Dubord has been sent to New York for co-signing, but has not as yet been received.

Known from Coast to Coast

Fields, long a top-ranking star in the music world, has played outstanding engagements from coast to coast. Among his best known "locations" have been the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco; the Waldorf-Astoria and New Yorker Hotels in New York; the Palmer House in Chicago; and the Paramount and Strand Theatres in New York. He has been featured on the three major radio networks, NBS, CBS, and Mutual. The Fields band also starred in the movie "Big Broadcast."

Three Thousand Combinations

"Rippling Rhythm", one of the most distinctive musical styles of the last decade, placed Shep Fields in the top brackets of dance bands. Recently he disbanded his "rippling rhythm" orchestra and inaugurated the new style he terms "new music". The new Fields

Loring Studios Signed For '43 Yearbook

Stephen S. Barone, editor of the Purple Patcher of the Class of 1943, announced that the photography for the book will be done by the Loring Studios of Hartford, Conn. The contract was signed last Wednesday. Work has already begun on the book with the Senior write-ups in the process of composition.

38 Staff Members Appointed

The write-ups are being composed by the following members of the Senior class: Thomas Meath, Roland Schambach, Clarence Emery, Wallace Haley, John Lawlor, Thomas Neagle, Francis Burnes, John Bezemes, Richard Dubord, James Byrne, Joseph Daly, James Garrity, William Sweeney,

H. C. Enrollment Still High

Seventy Percent Of Starters Remain, College States

With draft ages being consistently lowered, with army, navy and marines beckoning with anxious fingers, there has been considerable speculation about the campus as to the effect the war has had to date on the Holy Cross enrollment.

820 Present Figure

It should be interesting to note, then, that there were, as of Monday, May 25, 820 undergraduate students at Holy Cross. This information was released by the Office of the Registrar. Of the total number of students enrolled

DEBATERS HIT STRIDE AT BEGINNING OF NEW SEASON

The B. J. F. is well into the new season with inter-collegiate, radio and house debates all getting under way. A week ago Friday, Eugene Lawless, John O'Toole and John R. McCarthy debated at M. I. T. on "That the United States should form a permanent alliance with Great Britain." Holy Cross handled the affirmative and the decision went to the engineers.

This Thursday will be the first of the weekly radio debates of the new term. The discussion entitled "Christian freedom is democratic freedom" will be conducted by Edward Gilmore, '43; he will be aided in the presentation by Paul Gleason and Adrian

POPE'S PLANS FOR PEACE DISCUSSED BY SODALITY

The resident sodality of Our Lady was heard over Station WORC twice over a two-week period as they presented symposiums.

Pius' Aims Discussed

The first symposium, presented on Thursday night, May 14, was entitled, "Pope Pius XII and Peace". The sodalists, pointing out the folly of a peace without God, urged that the end of this world conflict should find His Holiness at the peace table.

The sodalists who participated in this discussion were John R. McCarthy, prefect of the Sodality; Martin F. Conroy, '43; John B. Noone, '45; Edward Gilmore, '43; John P. Morgan, '44 and Eugene T. Lawless, '43.

Mary Has Place in War

Last Thursday night, May 21, the Sodality discussed "Mary Immaculate, Patroness of the United States". The program consisted of a treatment by the sodalists of different aspects of the subject, and of its application to our war effort, interspersed with poems on Mary Immaculate.

The program was conducted by McCarthy, who read the poetry, outlined the discussion and functioned as an announcer. The other sodalists who participated were William N. Larson, J. William Quinn and Benjamin J. Singleton, all of '43; Hugh J. Reilly, '44; and Robert O. Johann, '45.

LITERARY STAFF IS APPOINTED FOR '43 PATCHER WRITE-UPS

The members of the literary board in charge of re-writing are William Whelan, John R. McCarthy, Martin Conroy, J. William Quinn, Charles Haskell, William Larson and Francis Kelley. The sports will be handled by Benjamin Singleton, John Swords and James Lynch. Raymond Ghelardi has been chosen staff photographer.

The Stobbs Press, which has done the work for many years, will again have charge of the printing. Engraving will be handled by the Lawton-Wiley Company.

The sittings for the Senior portraits will take place in the room opposite the Freshman Dean's office in Fenwick Hall. Sittings began yesterday and will continue until all pictures have been taken. Barone and John Ryan, business manager, are very anxious for all to report on time for their sittings, for cooperation is essential to the success of the book.

Barone is also planning to have many campus scenes and many group pictures taken during the Spring term.

JUNIOR CHEMISTS

The United States Civil Service Commission announced on Monday, May 18, that the closing date for receipt of applications from men for Junior Chemist positions will be June 1, 1942. All applications must be filed with the Commission's Washington, D. C. office.

Kidd Gains Navy "Flight Wings"

Word comes from the U. S. Naval Air Station, Miami, Florida, that Frederick C. Kidd, former Holy Cross footballer, has successfully completed his advanced aircraft carrier flight training at the Naval Air Station and has been appointed Ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Ensign Kidd now wears the Navy's coveted "Wings of Gold" which he was presented by Captain G. F. Bogan, USN, commanding officer, at impressive graduation exercises climaxing a long course of extensive training.

Kidd was introduced to naval aviation at the Naval Reserve Aviation Base at Squantum, Mass., and completed his training in Miami.

Eight Hundred Still Attend Holy Cross

625 are boarders, 195 day-students. This number does not include Freshmen who will enter in September. A normal Freshman class has from 300 to 400 members.

There are at present 233 members of the Senior class, the same class which hit the 402-mark as they matriculated in the Fall of 1939. The Juniors number 248; their incoming roster came to exactly 341. The Sophomores, who also came in 402 strong, now number 338. Add to the total of students now at Holy Cross one special student, and the total of 820 is reached. Thus, a bit of simple arithmetic brings to light the fact that the three classes at Holy Cross now average approximately 72 percent of their strength at matriculation.

As a further point of interest, the Senior class is divided into 178 boarders and 55 day-students; the Junior class, 181 boarders and 67 day-students; and the Sophomores, 266 and 72. The afore-mentioned special student is a day-scholar.

LIBRARY NEWS

"When Painting Was in Glory" by Padraic Gregory. (ND150.G8.1941). This work of the Irish critic and architect is the result of twenty-five years of study and painting in European galleries and churches. The book covers the lives and works of the most popular Italian painters from Giotto to Titian, a period which the author knows and admires. In those war-torn centuries the triumphs and sorrows of Our Lord and His Mother were the inspiration of artists, who found constant support in the liberality of a succession of large-minded popes. Some of the famous artists treated here are Giotto, Botticelli, Mantegna, Fra Angelico, Raphael, Michelangelo, da Vinci, Titian, and many others with sixty-five full page illustrations of the best-known paintings of each.

"A Declaration of Dependence" by Fulton J. Sheen. (BR115.W2.S5.1941). It is sad to note that among our so-called intellectual leaders so few of them fail to approach in their findings the real reasons for the present chaotic condition of the world. They talk loosely of freedom and angrily of their hatred of injustice and tyranny. But, as Monsignor Sheen points out in this

NAVAL RESERVE NOTES

George A. McEvoy, Jr.

E. G. Woodward, who holds the rank of Chief Specialist in the U. S. Navy, has been detailed to Holy Cross to take over the Physical Fitness Program which William A. Dorsey left when he accepted an ensign's commission in the Navy. Woodward is a graduate of Syracuse University with the class of 1940. He was a star football player on the varsity team for three years. A second Chief Specialist is due this week to assist Woodward in his work.

The Second Platoon under the leadership of Ensign Roe won the platoon competition held last week on the parade grounds of Freshman Field. Their marching and conduct of the manual of arms was excellent. The judges had a difficult task in picking the winning platoon as the First Platoon was almost on a par with the Second. Lieutenant Larkin did a remarkable job in handling the First Platoon in view of the fact that he has been in command only two weeks.

If the present trend continues, the Naval Ball is going to be a great success, according to dance committee chairman Ed Meyer. The N.R.O.T.C. students have paid for half of the entire cost of the dance at this early date. Chairman Meyer, however, at a meeting of the dance committee held last Tuesday, stressed the fact that all those who have paid for part of their ticket should try to have the remainder paid up as soon as possible.

Captain Wheeler wishes to announce that N.R.O.T.C. students who are going on the cruise will be placed on active duty, and as a result of their active status will receive full pay at the rate of apprentice seamen while on the cruise. As there is a bill in Congress to raise the pay of apprentice seamen, it would not at present be wise to state what the pay will be.

Beginning with Friday, May 22, the Drum and Bugle Corps will meet Mondays from 1700 to 1730 and on Fridays from 1630 to 1745. No one is excused from these drills. If classes interfere, students are to come to the drills as soon as possible after the class is dismissed and report to the Chief Petty Officer in charge of the drill.

A Navy Recruiting party will visit Holy Cross on Wednesday, May 27. Those interested in applying for class V-1, U.S.N.R., should stop at the Porter's lodge in O'Kane Hall on that day and confer with the recruiting officers. Physical exams will be given in the N.R.O.T.C. reading room located in the rear of the Library.

LABOR MEETING

Tonight, at its first meeting of the year, the Labor Academy will hear an inaugural address by Francis McGrath, president. All regular members are expected to attend, and all other students will be welcome. Besides McGrath's address, which will consist of an outline of plans for the year, a talk will be given on "The Church and the Social Order."

FACTS ABOUT NAVY V-1 at HOLY CROSS

The Navy's V-1 Plan under which Freshmen and Sophomores from 17 through 19 years of age can continue their courses and prepare to become officers in the Naval Reserve has been accepted by our school. Hundreds of colleges and universities are backing the Navy's V-1 program, and thousands of students in other schools have already enlisted under this plan.

Only 80,000 men will be accepted annually for this training, but the Navy wants these men to be fully acquainted with all V-1 details before enlistment. Many questions have been asked. In this column we will answer those most frequently asked and in addition carry informative articles covering all phases of V-1 activities. Some questions asked are:

Q. I am a sophomore and will be 20 years old next month. Can I enlist in V-1?

A. Yes. If you have not yet reached 20 and you are otherwise qualified, you're eligible.

Q. When the war ends, do I stay in the Service?

A. Under V-1, you enlist in the Naval Reserve. As an enlisted man or as an officer, you may be released from active duty as soon as possible after the war is over.

Q. Will the Navy pay my tuition and other expenses while I am still in college under the V-1 plan?

A. No. Navy pay does not start until you are assigned to active duty.

Q. What is the citizenship requirement for acceptance for V-1?

A. Applicants for V-1 must have been citizens for at least 10 years before the date of application.

B.J.F. RESUMES DEBATING

Lawless, Keegan And Cronin Victorious

O'Leary, seniors, and Donald Markham and Thomas Sullivan, juniors.

In the house, last Wednesday's meeting saw a debate on the suggestion that the government regulate telephone and telegraph; the debate was won by the negative team of Eugene Lawless, '43, and Joseph Keegan and Paul Cronin, both of '44. John O'Toole, '43, Robert Masterson and John Morgan, both of '44, were the unsuccessful defenders of the affirmative. This week the bone of contention is government ownership and operation of railroads. Joseph Kenneally, '43, James Cassidy and Louis Bernadotte, '44, for the affirmative, and Adrian O'Leary, '43, and James Fee and Walter Moynihan, '44, for the negative, compose the teams.

Labor Again Discussed

The following week the debate will be on the incorporation of labor unions. For the affirmative are Stephen Barone, '43, Philip Cahill and Robert Phillips, both '44; for the negative, William Larson, '43, Hugh Reilly and Edward Browne, both '44.

CLEAR CONVERSATION AIM OF FRENCH ACADEMY

At its first meeting of the new scholastic year, held Wednesday, May 20, the French Academy heard its recently-appointed president, P. Richard Poulin, '43, outline plans for the coming year. Poulin stated that it was more than ever the aim of the society to encourage conversation among the members. Doctor F. P. O'Hara, moderator, then spoke, stressing the great need of continual practice in order to acquire ease and fluency in French conversation.

Meetings in Afternoon

In line with these plans, the members separated into groups for conversational practice. This will be a rule at future meetings, all of which will be held in the afternoon. This departure from the usual custom of holding the meetings in the evenings has been popular with the students, as is evidenced by the large crowd attending Wednesday's meeting which began at 1:30 P. M. The meeting closed with the announcement that the next meeting would be held on Wednesday, May 27.

132 pounds; must possess at least 20 of his own teeth in sound condition; must have at least 12/20 vision in each eye, unaided, and any deficiencies corrected to 20/20 by proper fitting glasses; must have absolute color perception; must have no defects in speech or hearing, and no obvious or unusual physical defects.

Appointments Selective

Appointments for the Supply Corps will be thoroughly selective and will be made on a basis of comparison of the applications received.

Preliminary application blanks are on hand with the Dean's secretary, and these blanks should be returned to him. Students who have applied for appointments in the other classifications of the U. S. Naval Reserve should not submit an application for this appointment.

Since the requirements call for a college degree, it is obvious that this program is open only to present Seniors and to graduates within the age limit.

combination consists of ten saxophones and the usual rhythm section of piano, drums, guitar, and bass. The saxophone men double on forty-five different instruments, mostly wood-winds, which prevents the music from becoming monotonous. Fields has estimated that there are 3,000 possible combinations with his new orchestra, as against several hundred in usual dance bands. Although the blare and blasting of brass instruments is not present, the band has as much drive and power as any other group; and an excellent beat is maintained by the saxophones as well as by the rhythm section.

Bancroft Obtained

The committee was particularly fortunate in securing the main ballroom of the Bancroft Hotel as the site of the dance, since the Worcester County Alumni Association had made plans to hold a reunion there on June 5. However, through the kindness of Frederick L. O'Brien, the Alumni Association waived its option and made the hall available for the Spring Formal. The committee has completed arrangements for the decorations of the hall and has planned for handsome white leather programs for the evening.

YOU CAN STAY IN COLLEGE — IF YOU WORK

The recent Army and Navy joint release officially announced the new Enlisted Reserve Corps plan for college students, formulated along the same lines as the reserve plans now operative in the Army and the Navy Air Corps. By joining the Enlisted Reserve those now in college will be permitted to complete their education before being called to active duty. This, as Secretary of the Navy Knox agrees, is as it should be.

But Mr. Knox adds a word of caution. The country, he says, can no longer afford to have young men proceed with their education at a moderate tempo. Extracurricular activities and those which are specifically recreational must be curtailed. The colleges in wartime must be places of intensive effort and accomplishment.

We are not, then, being given carte blanche to bask our days out in sunny idleness; whatever we are doing must be done well — whether it be economics, or English, or chemistry. In a way we're living on borrowed time; and we have no right to borrow unless we pay back in terms of work well done. Let's take advantage of all possible opportunities to finish college; but let's use those advantages in the good faith in which they are offered to us.

CRITICAL TIMES DEMAND CAPABLE LEADERS

With the increase in recent years of contractual relations between government and people and the attendant emphasis on centralization of power has come a new need which asserts itself more strongly than ever before in this hour of total war — the need for competent representatives in the halls of Congress. The vital role which the federal government is playing today in the life of every American citizen postulates that we have representing us men who will pay heed not to the siren solos of individual interest but rather to the more exacting demands of the common good.

What sort of men should we have in Congress today? Obviously men who understand their country's government and sincerely want to improve it; men who will unhesitatingly subordinate party loyalty to the common good; men who will live up to the duties of American citizenship more steadfastly than their constituents — who, if they restrict consumption of a product by rationing, will not excuse themselves from the restrictions. The need is for hard-headed realists who recognize that this country today is largely what Congress and the President make it; who know that they are dealing with prodigious forces, and resolve to wield those forces humbly and with heads high.

We no longer have room for insignificant ward-healers or pork-barrel sycophants who lick all the frosting off the cake; or even for well-intentioned men who lack the requisite understanding of the responsibilities and duties of government. Decisions must be made quickly, and they will be; but they must also be made surely, and they will not be unless every "Nay" or "Aye" has for its basis extensive knowledge and thorough confidence in truth. If our legislators possess that confidence and ally with it a patriotic zeal we have little to fear in the days ahead.

Tribute: To Smilin' Jack Ryan who really took a beating about those two class rings he bought, (one was size four-and-a-half). He took it like a man and showed that he deserved his nick-name.

We hope that one student fails to turn in his sugar-ration card — just one. Kimball's pretty big to be a private dining room.

Question: Just what is it that New England doesn't have that other parts of the world have once in a while?

Answer: The sun. Now we know how the coal miners feel. That "Hill of Pleasant Springs" stuff certainly is a phony.

We thought the schedules were pretty tough but we didn't know they caused amnesia. Frank Lavin, having finished his eight-period day and ready for a little nap, was plodding wearily to his room, and it wasn't until he got to third O'Kane that he remembered he is now a Junior and lives in Carlin.

Nice of Fred Waring and Chesterfield to give us each a copy of the new fight song. Now all disputes have been settled as to how the second line of the chorus goes.

We hear that one of the big movie companies is going to have a sound track made of one of our physical training periods. They'll use it wherever they need sound effects for galley slaves, etc.

Anyone who knows of an easy job with good pay for the summer is asked to communicate with us.

The next guy who puts a slug in the mission box gets tossed to the draft board, so help us . . . Appendixless Jack Lynch, '43, and Bill Lebling, '44, are reported on the mend and as gay as could be under such distressing circumstances.

The B.J.F. meeting showed more than usual enthusiasm last week. We had some fair visitors from Worcester Teachers' College who, amid thunderous applause, took part in the Open Forum.

We still think it was pretty ironic when we were accused of being soft physically from excessive study and SOCIAL LIFE. Yeh, we suppose this business of a movie once a week is hitting the social whirl with a little too much "eclat".

Anyone desiring information on Worcester, especially the number and quality of its fairer sex, see Tom Shea, '43.

A "doggy" atmosphere has permeated the senior philosophy classes in Wheeler for the past week. It looks like St. Thomas as well as St. Francis enchants our canine friends. Loud yelps from one of the classes yesterday made us wonder if the professor was repeating Pavlov's experiments.

Now that Paul McCusker has the corsage concession for the Spring Formal, we suggest that he grow them as well as sell them. The large plowed area beside Beaven is very inviting.

CAMPUS FIGURES

You see him playing tennis with the varsity tennis team (yes, there is one), playing football, basketball and baseball with the intramuralites. He skis, skates. In high school he starred for his school's track, lacrosse, baseball, tennis, and hockey teams. And he does more than bathe in water. As a matter of fact, he does everything athletic. His name is Jim Fairclough — pardon us, James H. Fairclough, III.

Sounds Like Superman

When we were preparing this Campus Figure on Jim, we asked a friend of his to describe him. This is what he said, after careful thought: "Jim is . . . good-natured . . . generous . . . sincere . . . versatile. And from the reaction he gets in the line of correspondence, you can figure out that he's handsome, well-dressed and neat . . . He's such a nice guy that no one holds his hair-cut against him." And that testimony of one of his closest friends just about sums up Jim's character.

It is only natural that a man of Jim's abilities should be recognized for his merits even by the weaker and, as all men like to think, less "sharp" sex. And he is. The close friends whom we interviewed about Jim tell us that his nickname "Blades" arrives from his peculiar facility for mingling romance with winter sports — though why "Blades" should signify that, we do not know. Perhaps there's a story behind it.

Surprise! He Studies!

Don't get the impression that all our fair-haired (red-headed to be exact) boy does, is play and woo. He studies hard, when he does study, for his economics course. And next year the whole school will be cheering the talent that he has lined up for rallies, for Jim is a Purple Key man.

Oh yes — golf. Jim plays that, too. As a matter of fact, if there's any sport that you can think of, besides those we've mentioned, just add it to the list: Jim undoubtedly has more than a grandstand acquaintance with it.

Paging Madeline Carroll

Jim's planning on a career with the Marines after he's graduated. The girls in Wellesley probably can't wait to see him in his uniform. And if there are any in Wellesley who closely resemble Madeline Carroll, Jim would be especially glad to show off his uniform to them. Who wouldn't?

Jim Fairclough — as the Worcester papers insist upon spelling his name — is a "good man". Two gained by his coming to Holy Cross: the Cross and Jim. The Cross found an "all around man" and Jim found an education, sports and . . . well.

PURPLE PENNINGS

By Ben Singleton, '43

VARIATIONS ON A THEME BY BOSWELL

The quiet campus life at Holy Cross College has been changed recently. Not radically changed, to be sure, but changed to the extent that a new face has been added. The face is that of a man who owns a four-door sedan with Pennsylvania license plates. The man also owns a stocky build and a ruddy complexion. He possesses furthermore, a newly pressed suit replete with a quiet brand of humor, a ready laugh and an amiable personality. He is, of course, head football coach Anthony H. Scanlan, the man with the four-door sedan and the Pennsylvania license plates.

Anthony H., or just "Ank," is descended from a long line of Scanlans. The original Scanlans came from Ireland, but some claim that the Irish were originally from Greece. So, pending correction of that theory, we might say that "Ank" is ultimately a Greek, remotely an Irishman, and immediately an American — and all the way.

He was born in Hazelton, Pa., the son of a realtor. Attending local schools, he eventually wound up at St. Joseph's College in Philadelphia. While there he played varsity football, filling in at the halfback position, and was graduated with a Bachelor of Science pre-medical degree. Adverse circumstances prevented him from going to medical school, however, so he took engineering courses at Drexel and went to work as a civil engineer.

"Ank's" love for football never died, however, and he kept apace of the game with one of the local clubs. When the coaching position at St. Joseph's Prep was vacated in 1928 he was the logical man to fill it, and he did so with great success. Thus the man with the four-door sedan and the Pennsylvania license plates began his coaching career.

Was Holy Cross opportunity knocking at his door? Not at all. He'd had several other offers before the Crusader scouts got him to sign on the important line. Most of them, however, didn't show any signs of working out satisfactorily, so he decided to stay put until opportunity came around with a better proposition. In the meantime he had established himself with the Philadelphia Asbestos Company, where he is still secretary of the firm. And it's a good business too, he would add if you asked him.

Coach Scanlan is as yet undecided where he will live. He still claims Germantown, Pa., as his place of residence, but he would have a long way commuting to work every morning if he stayed there. Between spring practice and the fall season schedule, most of his time will be spent in Worcester, but any conclusions you draw are strictly your own.

What does he like? What does any football coach like! Primarily his life is bound up in football, and outside of his family it's his first love. When he gets through after a tough day on the field, like any other man, he likes to retire to the seclusion of his home and rest up. A good movie is a fine thing, and a little exercise during the off season is almost a requisite. Squash and handball are his favorites along that line.

A word picture is never adequate in knowing the real man, for it can leave so much untold, so much unfelt. And the man with the four-door sedan and the Pennsylvania license plates is a real man.

Barrymen End Schedule This Week; Clash With Harvard, Yale, B. C.

Murphy and Gerry Slated to Hurl for Purple; Finale for Six Seniors on Memorial Day

Punting Features Week-End Drills

Spring football practice will conclude this week after several weeks of strenuous activity. The gridders will hang up the cleats and shoulder pads Thursday until next Fall. A special scrimmage will help polish things off.

Kruez Instructs

Over the weekend Al Kruez, kicking expert from Pennsylvania, tutored the punters and point-after specialists in the finer points of those departments. A morning session Sunday was conducted on Fitton Field with the emphasis on coffin-corner kicks, kick-offs, and placement tries. Dick Gibson, Bill Swiacki, Steve Murphy, Bobby Sherwood, Ed Galuska, and others booted the pigskin out on the one-yard stripe with regularity; Capt. Ed Murphy, Steve Murphy, and Phil Nolan concentrated on the important art of the kickoff; the Murphys and Nolan also split the uprights with placements, as did Bobby Sullivan, and Galuska.

Points-After Important

Kruez highlighted the sessions with his energetic coaching and enthusiasm, keynoting his instruction with the prophecy: "You fellows lost a ball game last year by one point (B.C. 14 - H.C. 13). You're not going to do that any more!" Not only did the spry visitor outline the principles of a correct kicking game, but he also obliged with a practical demonstration that was something to watch. The Sunday morning session, in fact, developed into a free-for-all that saw Head Coach Scanlan, Kruez, and aides Lud Wray, Hughie Devore, Sheldon Beise, and Hop Riopel booting the pigskin all over Fitton Field after the practice period had ended.

Inter-Squad Game

The inter-squad scrimmage will be held either Thursday or Friday, probably on Fitton Field, and will see the Crusaders divided into the "Purples" and "Whites" coached respectively by Lud Wray and Hugh Devore. The game has already created much interest among the players who will be going at it tooth and nail. Admission of twenty-five cents will be charged for the student body in order to make possible an outing for the team on June 7.

Grigas with "Whites"

From all indications the "Purples", captained by Tom Alberghini, have an important line advantage but this will be offset by the "White" backfield led by "Jarrin" Johnny Grigas. Ed Murphy, captaining the "Whites", has Dick Gibson, Ed Galuska, Danny Weitekamp, and Ray Ball to help Grigas in the backfield, while "Murph" himself along with Pete Maurano will form the nucleus of the forward wall.

(Turn to Page Six)

Jack Barry's patched-up baseball team will wind up its abbreviated schedule this week with contests against Harvard and Yale at Cambridge and New Haven respectively and against Boston College Saturday at Fitton Field highlighting the last week of action.

Final Ball Games

The Crimson and Eli games today and tomorrow, wind up the home-and-home series between Holy Cross and these Ivy colleges. The Purple boasts a victory over both these teams already this season. Eddie Murphy hurled a three-hitter to blank Floyd Stahl's men from the banks of the Charles at Fitton Field three weeks ago, 9-0, while Harper Gerry breezed to an easy 14-4 victory as the Barrymen clouted Yale pitching to a fare-thee-well two weeks back.

Elis Top Rams

It is interesting to note that this same Yale nine which proved such a push-over for Gerry recently managed to defeat Fordham 2-1 Saturday. Fordham, of course, is the only collegiate club to hold a decision over H. C. this Spring. Harvard, too, has been on the up-grade of late and barely lost the Eastern League title to Princeton Saturday, 6-5, a fourteen inning game.

Wind Up Careers Saturday

Naturally Coach Barry is anxious to add two more wins to the 1942 record, but we suspect he will be concentrating on Boston College Saturday. The B.C.-H.C. game originally scheduled for Saturday, June 6, has been cancelled, so the clash this Saturday will be the last for the Purple this year. A victory for B.C. would even the series, but Eddie Murphy, who has yet to pitch his best game against the Eagles, promises to be in top form for the Memorial Day skirmish.

Incidentally, this B.C. game will mark finis for the collegiate baseball careers of veterans Ed Murphy, Manny Merullo, John Bezemes, Jim Scandras, Kev Mulcahy, and Bill Morgan.

Eddie Leary or George Bent will be on the mound for the Maguiremen, who have been hitting the ball hard, but have been receiving only average pitching.

KELLY AND LAKOMSKI IN IC4A MEET SAT.

FRAN KELLEY

On Memorial Day, May 30, Fran Kelley, Bart Sullivan's ace miler, and Chet Lakowski, Junior shot-put artist, will travel to New York for the IC4A meet on Randall's Island.

Kelley, who recently set a new school mark in the mile, was a consistent winner in his Junior year, garnering more firsts than almost any man on the squad. Lakowski showed improvement throughout the year and promises to develop into an outstanding weight man.

Yacht Club Seeks Dinghy Title

Mariners and Boston U. Will Compete Sunday On Charles River

The sails bloomed big and bright Sunday, May 17, at the twelfth annual Boston Dinghy Club Intercollegiate Challenge Cup regatta in which the Crusaders placed seventh in a field of 12 entries.

In the first division, Art Ogden and Joe Deegan made up the representative crew and garnered three seconds, an equal number of thirds, a seventh and three eleventh places, giving them a total of 74 points and a tie for third in that division with Dartmouth.

Jerry Macdonald and Tom Macdonald crewed up and pulled in a total of 53 points, placing them ninth.

The Purple's 127 points placed them three points behind B. C. Harvard, under Commodore Dave Noyes, took the number one position as they garnered a total of 196 points; M. I. T. pulled in second with 171 points; and Dartmouth and Williams tied for third with 155 points each.

M. I. T. turned in an extremely creditable performance which was a tough one for the engineers to lose, as the departure of the Boston Dinghy Club Cup left M. I. T. for the first time in six years without possession of a single major intercollegiate dinghy trophy. The Eagles' victory over the Crusaders was rather unexpected as in the preceding week the Purplemen had beaten B. C. in dual competition.

book, they never give any indication of realizing that the prime cause of these evils is the abandonment of God by the nations of the world. People and their governments have exchanged money, power, and pleasure for duties, rights, and religion. He sees this war as a judgment of God on the guilty nations, and that the only way to restore peace to this earth is to bring God back into the hearts and souls of men. Lest we forget, our own Declaration of Independence is itself a declaration of our dependence on God. This book by one of the Church's greatest contemporary writers deserves the attention of any serious reader. The Library now has on hand the complete works of Monsignor Sheen.

"For the Heathen are Wrong" by Eugene Bagger. (PN4874.B14.A3.1941) Eugene Bagger was converted to Catholicism as a boy but gradually lost his faith until, some years later, after a period of flirtation with the philosophies of Freud, Spengler, Kant, Descartes, and Bacon, he was reconverted to the Church. This book is the product of six years of roving thought about Europe the surer he was that "civilizations die when religions die". He expresses his belief that the present war is a continuation of the ancient constantly renewed struggle between the "northern hordes" and Christian civilization as represented, at least fundamentally, by France. His personal experience with the French people of all classes makes authoritative his explanation of the fall of France. The decline of religion causes disunity and ruin and this evil can only be obliterated by a revival of true religious feeling.

"America in the New Pacific" by George E. Taylor. (DS518.8.T2.1942). The author is an expert on Far Eastern affairs, having lived, taught, and travelled throughout the Orient. He sees the issue in the present strife in the Pacific — one between the American program for Asia and the Japanese program. He interprets the revolutionary changes in the Pacific which the attack on Pearl Harbor precipitated, and defines the possible alternatives, and describes the forces which are to determine what the future will be.

which will also be manned by burly Mel Downey, Johnny DiGangi, Walt Hoar, "Red" Quinn, Bob Lawson, and Bill Sartorelli. A tentative lineup for the Wray "Wildcats" will have Frank Kleniewski at quarter supported by Bobby Sherwood, Bob Sullivan, and Al Wizbicki as running mates. The line will probably open up with Bob Barton and Gerry Schum at ends, while the center will find Alberghini, Jim Landrigan, Frank Griffin, George Titus, and Phil Nolan massed to prevent any "White" advances. This line-up will be supplemented by Lou Celentano in the backfield and Bill Swiacki at end, both of whom will see plenty of action.

Outing Planned

The players and coaches are really keyed up for the clash, as witness the private sessions being carried on by both squads under the watchful eyes of Devore and Wray. The students are asked to pile in their two-bit contributions and help climax the tough spring grind for the players by supporting their outing.

INTRAMURALITES

By PAUL MURRAY, '44

PITCHERS PARADISE . . . With the half-way station almost reached in the current baseball season atop Mt. St. James, the outstanding performances are still being delivered by two or three fireball specialists. At the head of the list stands Beaven III's Kev McCarty, but he was expected to lead the parade this year anyway, so we'll pass on to a few of the others who are threatening to surpass the Beaven ace. Jimmy O'Brien really showed the boys a fast ball when he held the opposition to one safe blow in his first two efforts of the year. Last week he was touched for four runs but this was largely due to a sudden wild streak and very poor support on the part of his teammates. The hurler who has the batters jumping in League B is Bob McCarthy, who is leading his Worcester senior outfit to a probable league title. This day-hop club looks better each time out and may walk away with the first place spot unless Carlin III's Dick Maxwell pulls a surprise and holds them. Dick has pitched two low-hit games and holds a distinct advantage in the abbreviated contests.

The standings seem to bear out pre-season prognostications, with only N R O T C IA sneaking in among the leaders in League A and Alumni IB a possible dark-horse in the other league. Alumni IIIA or Carlin IIIA may upset either of the league leaders, Beaven III and Wheeler IA, neither of whom can afford to drop a game. In the B League Worcester '43, Carlin I, and Carlin IIIB appear to be the class.

SOFTBALL HEADACHES . . . There has been a loud protest of righteous indignation from a strong majority of the softball teams as to the uselessness of trekking to the top of the hill each day only to find the opposition as scarce as new tires. Most of the complaints have been directed towards the naval unit teams and the Worcester clubs. If these teams would only show a little of the enthusiasm and spirit for competition, as exemplified by the corridor clubs, there would be little cause for complaint. Most of the teams have found that softball is providing them with some good old-fashioned fun as well as an opportunity to let off their excess steam.

The games have been marked with high scores, all three leagues being very closely contested and as yet no indications pointing to the possible winners. In each league there are four or five teams battling for top spots but even those who have dropped a few games are by no means to be counted out.

ODDS 'n ENDS . . . The senior tennis tournament is getting underway this week under the supervision of Jim Lynch. All pre-first round matches will be concluded by Tuesday, with the complete first round expected to finish by the end of the week. Sometime next week the juniors will start theirs with the sophs following shortly after . . . Four N R O T C teams are entered in both softball and baseball leagues. These clubs are being managed by Bill Kellick, Walt Egan, Johnny Stodder, and George McEvoy. The players are not only competing for intramural honors but also for ranking awards within the naval unit . . . There appears to be a little chap with a distorted sense of humor and the mind of a three-year-old who delights in running around Carlin tearing down the intramural signs. Probably it's just one of the junior high boys going home but we do wish that it would stop. Maybe he doesn't realize that it takes a good deal of someone's time to prepare and post those signs.

"It is well that the author is making these volumes, published originally as a digest of lectures for students of philosophy at Holy Cross College, accessible to a larger reading public."
 —America.

"The amount of matter included in these texts is noteworthy. Students completing the two volumes will have passed a fairly active two-semester course and may feel that they have practically all the essentials and details that a course in Scholastic Ethics can offer."
 —Modern Schoolman, May, 1930.

"Father Sullivan has presented his theses in syllogistic form. This adds greatly to the value of these volumes both in the classroom and in the hands of students."
 —Catholic World, November, 1930.

"I like your orderly arrangement and method in treating the subject and find your books very useful."
 Rev. John F. Wilson, O.S.A., Villanova College, Villanova, Pa.

"This last definition, gentlemen, I take from the 'Special Ethics' of one of your neighbors, Rev. Joseph Sullivan, S.J., professor of Ethics in Holy Cross College, a book which, by the way, I take the liberty to recommend to you. . . I feel sure that if you read that book you will admit that you will have been helped to think more clearly and more helpfully on what is right and wrong in all these domains."
 Professor Louis J. A. Mercier, A.M., Litt.D., Harvard University.

(From an address delivered before the Springfield, Mass. City Club.)
 "The exposition is uniformly clear and the arguments well sustained."
 Ecclesiastical Review, October, 1930.

"We are finding these volumes very satisfactory for the senior class in philosophy as a text book."
